A cow was also grazing in the garden. He saw how the cow was chewing grass. A fly then came there and buzzed over the cow. The cow swung her tail to make the fly move away. The child clapped and laughed.

The boy was enjoying the beauty of nature. He said, "Nature is wonderful. Its beauty attracts everyone."

When he saw a squirrel he ran after it and reached near the bed of roses. He tried to pluck some of the roses, but a thorn pierced his finger. It was very painful. The boy started crying and ran to his house.

His mother asked him, "What is the matter? Why are you crying?" The boy said, "The thorn of the rose pierced my finger while I was trying to pluck it and now I feel severe pain."

His mother said, "It is your mistake. You should not have tried to pluck the flower. The flowers are meant to be seen and not to be plucked. Besides, natural beauty should never be harmed. Instead, we should help to maintain the nature."

V. Read the following text and decide if the sentences are true(T) or false(F).(20 points)

I'm just looking out of my window now at a jet aeroplane. I live quite close to an airport, you see, and from my living room window I have a view of planes taking off and landing all day. Of course, it does get quite noisy and, sometimes, if a plane is flying too low, our whole house shakes and rattles! We've become quite used to it, though. In fact, none of us even wakes up at night anymore. The only problem arises when we have people spending the night. Most of our visitors are not accustomed to the noise that comes with living near an airport, so there have been more than one occasions when a guest wakes up in the middle of the night, terrified, wondering if an earthquake has just taken place!

Yet, I feel lucky to live where I do, because aeroplanes fascinate me. I think it's absolutely incredible that a huge piece of metal with hundreds of people inside it, can actually fly through the air. I mean, something weighing hundreds of tonnes should fall out of the sky, right? If you didn't know the scientific reason for flight - which we do nowadays, of course - you really would think it was magic.

Up until a couple of years ago, I was constantly on an aeroplane. I worked as a salesman for a snack food company, and my job involved travelling up and down the country every couple of weeks. I absolutely loved it. Now I only get on an aeroplane when my wife and I go to visit our eldest daughter in Spain. My wife doesn't understand my great love of aeroplanes. When she sees me watching yet another TV programme about them, or reading yet another book about flying, she sighs and tells me that I need to get another interest. But I just tell her that everyone is different and that she should be happy I have a hobby. I've just started reading a book by a man who used to fly for a major international airline. It's a fascinating read - I can't put it down. The author goes into a lot of great detail about what it is like to be a pilot. He makes it sound like the most exciting job in the world. I think if I were young again, I would definitely train to be a pilot.

1. The writer is in his house.
2. The noise made by the plane keeps disturbing the writer's sleep.
3. Sometimes, guests wake up at night thinking that there has been an earthquake.
4. The writer thinks flying is as wonderful as magic.
5. Not long ago, the writer used to own a business.
6. What the writer loved about his job was that he travelled a lot.
7. From the text, we know the writer currently lives in Spain.
8. The writer's wife shares his interest in aeroplanes.
9. The book the writer is reading is about an airline company.
10. The text is about a man's hobby.

Robot Birds

Liverpool city council want to clear the city of fat pigeons. They say that that people are feeding the birds, which makes them fat. The pigeons get bigger because their normal diet would consist of seeds and insects, not high-fat junk food they are eating in the city center.

The council want people to know that everyone who feeds the pigeons is responsible for the streets being so crowded with these birds. They hope to encourage the birds to move away from the city center and into parks and open spaces.

Ten robotic birds have been brought into the city center to scare the pigeons away and visitors are asked not to give the pigeons any food. The mechanical birds - known as 'robops' - will sit on the roofs of buildings. They can be moved around to different locations. They look like a peregrine falcon, which is a bird that kills pigeons. They even make noises and flap their wings to scare the pigeons. They hope that the pigeons will go away before the city becomes the European Capital of Culture in two years.

V. Read the following text and decide if the sentences are true(T) or false(F) (20 points).

In November 2016, Kevin Newton's Bus Shelter opened its doors for the first time on the Isle of Wight in the UK. It's actually an old double-decker bus that Kevin changed to be a place where people can live, sleep and cook. The bus is located in the peaceful suburbs of the island's main town and is open 24/7. Anyone who doesn't have anywhere to sleep can head to the bus and expect a warm welcome.

Kevin's goal was to make it unnecessary for people on the Isle of Wight to sleep outside. Anyone without a place to sleep can live in the shelter for as long as they want if they're willing to follow the Bus Shelter's rules. Residents are required to get help from local agencies who help homeless people find housing and jobs. They also have to do paid or voluntary work to keep the bus running. So far, the Bus Shelter project really seems to be having a positive impact on the Isle of Wight. Kevin hopes that people in other parts of the UK will start using old buses to house the homeless soon, too.

Do you like video games? Lots of people do. There are many types of video games. Some people like action games. Other people like driving games. But the most popular game of all time is a puzzle game.

Tetris is a game about making lines. Blocks fall from the top of the screen. They fall one at a time. The player moves the blocks. Once the blocks hit the bottom, they are locked in place. Players try to make lines go across the screen with no gaps. Complete lines disappear. This gives players more room. The blocks pile up during the game. The game ends when the blocks get to the top of the screen.

A man named Alexey made Tetris in 1984. All the pieces in Tetris have four blocks. The word “tetra” means four. Alexey named his game after tetra and tennis. He made Tetris while working at a science academy in Moscow, Russia.

Alexey made his game on a screen that only showed letters. He could not use blocks. The blocks were made out of letters in the first game of Tetris. Still, all Alexey’s friends loved his game. It was easy to learn and fun to play.

Soon the game spread across the world. It was on every computer. It was in arcades. It came with every one of Nintendo’s Game Boy. More than 100 million Game Boys were sold. Tetris was all over the place. Even today Tetris comes with many phones.

Dr. Richard Haier has studied Tetris players. He ran many tests. He found that playing Tetris boosts mental activity. Dr. Haier thinks tetris is good for the brain. I agree with this finding. Now go and play some Tetris. It’s just what the doctor ordered.
